ABSTRACT

- Interpretation is to trans-interpret the text fully to cease the multiplicity of the text.
- Language is to speak about the content rather than the crux of the matter ingrained into the text.
- The author is to finish writing and be relaxed in the super-consciousness of the text.
- The reader is to study the subjectivity and objectivity of the text to reach the finalisation of the meaning.
- The binary oppositions are to merge finally into the oneness of textual power.

- The centre is to act like a pendulum fixed for the measurement of oscillations of plurality into the text.
- Super-consciousness is a rational-cum-spiritual meditation on the centre and content of the text merging all the disputes in perpetual silence emerging through unending discourses in human sciences and resting them in peace forever.
